La Puerta Core Essentials Face Care

Sonal Dutt, Food & Lifestyle Director: One of my favorite places on the planet is Rancho La Puerta, a wellness resort located at the foot of Mount Kuchumaa in Tecate, Mexico. (I'm not usually a healthy vacation kind of person—my travel motto is usually “no carb left behind”—but this place is really special.) I remember stepping onto the lush, serene property for the first time and thinking, “I can’t wait to bring my mom here.” Unfortunately, she hasn’t made it out to the ranch with me yet (yet!), but I can still give her a chance to experience a little of that Rancho magic at home with these luxurious face creams and serums. She’ll love that the holistic products—which are inspired by the ones used at the resort’s spa—are made with healing botanicals that gently sooth and nourish the skin. My mom (and her beautiful face!) deserve to be pampered in the best way possible.
