Rancho La Puerta revealed the plans to open a private, wellness-focused village of residencies on the Ranch's 4,000-acre grounds in Tecate, Mexico. The residencies will be an extension of the resort and community, and they're placed beside a vineyard with views of Mount Kuchumaa.

The residencies will be crafted with sustainable materials, use solar energies and honor natural resources, with a focus on being eco-friendly and supporting health and well-being. Residents will be able to enjoy the Ranch's wellness services and private classes at the Resident Village Center, and they'll also receive 60-day passes that will allow them to partake in daily Ranch activities.

The Resident Village Center will help guests immerse themselves in a complete well living program that includes classes, activities and guided hikes. The center features:

- Multi-use spaces for fitness and yoga classes

- Open Center Lawn for outdoor, fresh air, fitness and wellness classes and events
- Pickleball and tennis courts
- Fully equipped gym
- Library
- Pool and Jacuzzi
- Juice/wine bar and cafe
- Private meditation room
- Fire pits
- Locker rooms with showers and a sauna

There are three residency options that come with their own amenities. The three residencies include:

- Casitas. These 1,961-square-foot residencies have two bedrooms, two and a half bathrooms, a full kitchen, an outdoor terrace, the DARWIN Wellness Home Technology purification system and a private patio that includes a water fountain, hammock, chimenea and meditation space.
- Casas. These 2,774-square-foot residencies have three bedrooms (of which two are master bedrooms), three and a half bathrooms, large living and dining areas, a fireplace, private parking, a full kitchen, an outdoor terrace, DARWIN Wellness Home Technology purification system and a private patio that includes a water fountain, hammock, dipping pool and meditation space.
- Villas. These 4,299-square-foot residencies have four bedrooms (two of which are master bedrooms), four and a half bathrooms, views of Mt. Kuchumaa, large living and dining areas, a fireplace, private wine cellar, underground parking, private terrace surrounded by gardens and vineyards, full kitchen, DARWIN Wellness Home Technology purification system, meditation space, private pool, water fountain and outdoor spaces.
